

Changing Times: The Musical

C (once)

A#

Hey mom, hey dad, I've got something to say

A#

I know you said that you would love me anyway

C

A#

But there's something about me, you may find a bit weird

A#

But trust me, mom and dad, you have no need to fear

I may be different than you thought I'd be, but my life is mine

The world you lived in is all gone, we're in changing times

C (once)

A#

Hey mom, hey dad, I know the talk around town

C (once)

A#

They say I'm not one to talk to girls or sleep around

A#

They say there's something about me, that they find a bit weird

A#

Because I don't go out and party, while pounding down beers

Well they may be right, figured me out, maybe I'm that way

You see, mom and dad, I want you to know that I am...

A#

Hey mom, hey dad, you may have heard that it's wrong

A#

Those politicians you love will say that I don't belong

They'll scream and shout, and you'll nod and agree

A#

But maybe you can change your mind, if you can just see

Maybe the bible says it too, but I'm not sure that it is true

Because there's one thing I'd like to tell you...

I'm a game design major

I'm a game design major

Now you might be upset and you might curse me out to hell

But I swear I shower once a day and I try not to smell

I'm just doing what's best for me, yeah what I think is right

And if Jesus was alive today I think he'd play Fortnite

I'm a game design major

I've also never actually played fortnite so I'm not sure about that last part

I'm game design major
